JOHANNISBERG RIESLING

This Johannisberg Riesling is a graceful white wine, soft and round with an elegant fruitiness. In the very cool climate of Upper Monterey County, these grapes ripen in late October or early November every year. As a result of this longer growing season and slower ripening, the wine assumes a deeper, more complex and luscious flavor. It goes well with seafood, light meats, and as an aperitif.

The wines of The Monterey Vineyard are characterized by a unique freshness and fruitiness, and a varietal intensity found only in grapes grown in cooler climates. Their emphatic natural character is captured by the vines reaching deep into the crumbled granite slopes of Upper Monterey County. Warm sunshine and cool breezes from Monterey Bay do the rest.
